

WOUND IN HEAD CAUSE OF DEATH

Harry Richey, Formerly of Milroy,
Injured in Unknown Manner and
Never Regained Consciousness

DIES AT FORT WORTH, TEXAS

Whether He Met With Foul Play or
Fell While at Work Was Not
Known—Body Being Returned

Harry Richey, age thirty-seven years, a former resident of Milroy, died Wednesday night at ten o'clock, at his home in Fort Worth, Texas, from the effects of an injury he sustained in some unknown way on Tuesday, April 8, according to word received at Milroy Thursday.

Mr. Richey, who was found unconscious in his garage at Fort Worth two weeks ago last Tuesday with an ugly wound in his head, and the cause of his injury could not be learned because he had never regained consciousness.

Whether the former Milroy man met with foul play or fell over on the floor and cut his head while at work is not known. There was no evidence of an attempt at robbery, it is said.

Spinal meningitis developed from the wound and he underwent an operation in a Fort Worth hospital, Tuesday, April 15. This did not relieve the injured man and he was operated on a second time, when it was found that he had a blood clot on his brain.

Mr. Richey had only one arm, one having been cut off in a fodder-shredder on a farm near Milroy about seventeen years ago.

After this misfortune, he went into the garage business and acquired some fame as an endurance driver of automobiles. He drove a car from Indianapolis to Davenport, Iowa, which at that time was the longest non-stop trip on record.

The deceased is survived by the widow, his father, John Richey of Fort Worth, and two sisters, Mrs. Clifford Johnson of Milroy and Mrs. J. E. Spillman of Indianapolis.

The body is enroute to Milroy now and will arrive in Greensburg Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. The remains will be taken to the home of the deceased's aunt, Mrs. Edgar Thomas, where funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and burial will take place in the Milroy cemetery.

OBTAINS AN AWARD FOR CONSULS' WIDOWS

Sen. Watson Responsible for Amendment Which Will Give Mrs. Ross
Hazeltime a Year's Salary

HUSBAND DIED IN AFRICA

Senator James E. Watson, according to a Washington dispatch, appeared before the senate appropriations committee Thursday, and obtained incorporation in the state department appropriations bill of an amendment providing for the payment of a year's salary to the widows of two Indiana men who lost their lives while abroad in the consular service.

One of the widows to be thus benefited, if the bill is passed by the senate, is Mrs. Ross Hazeltime of Columbus, formerly Miss Carrie Kitchen of this city.

Mr. Hazeltime died while at his post of duty at Lourenco, Marques, Portuguese East Africa, July 5, 1922. He had been in the consular service thirteen years, serving several different countries. It was considered that his health had been impaired by the various changes of climate he experienced while serving his government. His service took him to various countries of South America and Africa. Senator Watson has been working for the past year to have a year's salary awarded to Mr. Hazeltime's widow, but until now had been unable to get a favorable consideration.

"Both men died in the service of their country. They rendered an important service at comparatively small pay. I am glad for the government to award some compensation to their families," said Senator Watson.

BUS GOES INTO THE DITCH

Driver, Who Had No Passengers, Escapes Without Injury

One of the busses that operates between Rushville and Indianapolis, went into the ditch early this morning, shortly after midnight, but the driver, who was the only occupant, escaped without any injuries.

The accident happened near the Bruce Johnson home, this side of Arlington. The driver is believed to have lost control of the large bus, and it went into the ditch, and rolled over on its side. It was not damaged to any great extent, and it is considered miraculous that the driver was not injured.

Local Post Hopes to See Posts in County Combined—Compiling List
of Ex-Service Men

At a meeting of Rush Post 150, American Legion, the organization has decided to take part in the annual Memorial Day celebration May 30, when the graves of the Civil War veterans will be decorated, and a speaking program arranged.

The local legion post will engage a speaker of prominent repute, and the ceremonies will be held in the forenoon on that day.

An appeal for all patriotic orders to take part in the services was made this week by the G. A. R. post, and all organizations were requested to have representatives at the meeting in the court house May 3, when the Civil War veterans will hold their regular session.

The Rush Post will make a concerted drive for membership in the near future. The legion here has made one of the best records of any in the state in the past few months, with the membership having been doubled.

Some of the members of the posts in the towns of the county which have not been active in recent months, have plans on foot of combining their charters, and all of the legion posts being assigned to this city, under the name of the Rush County Post.

In this way, it would provide the post with a solid unit which could be combined with much more pressure in achieving results and bringing good for the interests of the World War veterans.

It is understood that several of the outlying posts have surrendered their charters, or are about on the verge of doing so, and if all of the World War veterans would associate

Unwelcome Guest Throws First Floor of Court House Into Furor

Pet Opossum of Custodian Goes on Sight-Seeing Trip and Plays 'Possum in County Agent's Office Under Corn Racks—Given Freedom
For the Summer

The court house has had an inhabitant all winter, it was disclosed late Thursday, when the animal got hungry and tired of its lodging in the basement, and found refuge in the big piles of corn loaded on racks in the county agent's office.

This strange guest threw the first floor of the court house into a furor, and especially the county agent's office where Miss Frances Geraghty is employed.

When the visitor was discovered by Robert Marshall in the corn testing part of the county agent's office, only a big tail was seen from underneath one of the racks where the corn was piled.

He didn't want to venture further in the investigation, and he called help. When Miss Geraghty let out a wild scream, the tail gave a short twist. Other people in the court house came running into the room.

Earl Conway punched the tail with his crutch. No one had enough courage to lend a hand. George Mitchell, the custodian, heard the commotion and arrived upon the scene.

He showed courage and reached down and took a good grip on the tail, and pulled out an animal, about the size of a full grown cat. It was only the custodian's pet opossum that got venturesome, and was attracted by the smell of the corn.

The opossum had been making his home all winter in the basement, feasting on rats and mice. One night last fall dogs had the opossum up a tree in the court house yard, and Mr. Mitchell captured him, and gave him a place in the basement.

Yesterday, someone left the basement door open, and Mr. 'possum went on a sight-seeing trip. The custodian decided that it would be best to let him go for the summer, and his pet was taken to the edge of the city and turned loose.

Miss Geraghty is making inquiry into zoology, trying to ascertain if the 'possum has any characteristics of a cat, and she will live in fear for several days expecting the unwelcome visitor to return home. According to Mr. Mitchell, the last he saw of his pet, he was making rapid speed toward Mauzy.

Rev. Gibson Wilson Will Speak at
The Service—Order Has Made
Remarkable Growth

Arrangements have been perfected by the Odd Fellows of this city to celebrate the 105th anniversary of the founding of the order by attending services at the First Presbyterian Church next Sunday evening, when the Rev. Gibson Wilson will conduct the service. Mr. Wilson is Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Indiana at the present time and has also held a similar position in the Grand Lodge of Ohio.

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows was founded in Baltimore April 26th, 1819 by five men who met in a tavern in answer to an advertisement inserted in a newspaper by Thomas Wildey, an Englishman. It has flourished and grown until today it has over two and one half million members and last year paid out over $7,000,000 for the relief of its members. It also maintains 57 homes for orphans and aged, with over eight million dollars invested in them.

The local lodge, Franklin Lodge No. 35, was founded May 13, 1846 and is the oldest fraternal organization in the county, and has always been prominent in the state councils.

The members have been notified to meet at the temporary quarters in Main street Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock and go to the church in a body. The officers are urging that every member attend and join in this service and it is anticipated that the capacity of the church will be tested to accommodate the congregation.

DISCOUNTED NOTE FOR M'CRAY

Bank Official Says A. E. Herriman
Co., Was Represented to be Worth
$155,000—Was Small Firm

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25—A financial statement sent out by Governor McCray, representing the "A. E. Herriman Company" to be worth $155,000, lead the Marshfield, Indiana, state bank to discount paper for the governor, H. G. Chandler, cashier of the bank testified today in the federal court trial of McCray.

A note for $1,250 on the "Herriman Company" given the Marshfield bank is one the government alleges McCray forged and went through the mails. McCray is being tried on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails.

Later Chandler testified Thomas Barr, a deputy state bank examiner, bought the note and took up all the correspondence relative to it.

Chandler said he had no knowledge of the financial condition of the Herriman company, maker of the note. The statement sent him by the governor, represented the concern as being worth $155,000, the witness testified.

The government contends the Herriman Company was a small road contracting firm in which McCray was a partner. The note was bought from the bank October 8, 1923 by Barr, the witness said. This was after McCray's financial failure had become public and just before a grand jury investigation of his affairs was started.

Barr took all the correspondence

DADDY LONG LEGS IS WELL RECEIVED

High School Senior Class Play Presented Before Large Audience
Thursday Evening

PARTS EXCELLENTLY TAKEN

Interpretation of Two Principal Characters Responsible Largely
For Success of Play

"Daddy Long Legs" the Senior class play of the high school, was splendidly presented Thursday evening as the second performance, at the Graham Annex auditorium, before a large audience, and judging from the response, it was well received. The class put on the first performance Thursday afternoon for the grade children.

The whole action of the play centered around Judy Abbott, Miss Jean Herkless, who had been an orphan for eighteen years in the John Grier Home, and Daddy Long Legs, Douglas Morris, a rich trustee, who falls in love with the orphan and sends her to college. Miss Herkless acted the part of Judy excellently, and soon won the hearts of her audience with her interpretation of the part. Douglas Morris was also well fitted for the principal role and his stage actions were very natural. His interpretation of Daddy Long Legs was fine and was in a large measure responsible for the success of the play.

The first act was a scene in the John Grier Orphan's Home. The orphans, Helen Spivey, Virginia Hogsett, Dorothy Beecraft, Frances Martox and Elizabeth Manning, were typical in their blue-check gingham dresses. Miss Hazel Dugal acted the part of Mrs. Lippert, the ferocious matron of the Home, in fine style. In this act the Orphan's Home is visited by Mr. Wycoff, Ira Melvaine, a popular trustee, Miss Pritchard, the secretary Beulah Phillips, who is very tactful, and Jervis Pendleton, Douglas Morris, another trustee. During the visit of the noted guests Judy, who is an overseer of the Orphans, is vexed by the stern matron and creates a scene, in which she rebels against the Home and wishes she could leave the place she so detests. Mr. Pendleton at once takes a liking to the orphan, and makes arrangements to send her to college, but takes the fictitious name of Mr. Smith and through the aid of Miss Pritchard, the secretary, Judy was sent to College.

When the curtain went up for act two, Judy was in her study at college with her two room mates, Julia Pendleton, Mildred Retherford, and Sallie McBride, Rena Mae Norris, the girls are preparing for company, their guests to be Julia Pendleton's mother, Mary Elizabeth Beale, who is

First One of its Kind Granted in
Rush County is Awarded to Milroy
High School

HOMER TO HAVE JUNIOR HIGH

The Milroy school system today received a Junior-Senior commission from the state board of education, and the commission is for a period of a year, it being the first one of its kind to be granted a school in Rush county.

The commission is for a "six-six" school plan, in which the Junior and Senior high school is divided into two equal periods of three years, and the elementary grades are from one to six, inclusive. The Rushville high school has a different commission, in that the Junior high school consists of two years and the regular high school four years.

Several other schools in the county are attempting to obtain commissions under the "six-six" plan, and may be successful as soon as certain requirements are met.

The high school at Homer in Walker township is to be discontinued after the present term, and next fall, a Junior high school will be inaugurated, and this will be the only town or school in the county having an exclusive Junior high school.

5 Operations—15 years suffering with constipation—Kellogg's Bran restores health

Mr. Lancing's case is typical of thousands of others. He found permanent relief from constipation in Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read what he says:

Dear Sir:

I have been afflicted with constipation for the past 15 years, and during that time I have been in four different hospitals and submitted to five different operations that were the result of constipation. I was getting so bad that every meal I ate soured on my stomach. Two months ago I was advised to eat your Kellogg's Bran. I tried it, as I was trying everything I could hear of. From that day on I have never taken a physic. My stomach does not sour any more and my bowels move regularly morning and evening. Yours sincerely, Frank Lancing, 1306 Jeffries Ave., Marion, Ind.

For permanent relief, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. Two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money.

You will like the delicious nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran—so different from ordinary bran, which are unpalatable. Eat Kellogg's Bran with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, is served by leading hotels and clubs in individual packages. Made in Battle Creek. CAMPAIGN TO CLOSE SUNDAY

Evangelistic Meetings in Charge of Evangelist J. C. McCaslin at New Salem to End

SUBJECTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Two More Conversions Reported Thursday Evening—Heart-Searching Bible Questions Pronounced

Evangelistic meetings at the New Salem Methodist Protestant church will close Sunday evening. Three services, including the reception of members, will be held Sunday. Two more conversions last evening added much to the interest of the meeting. Pastor P. W. Boxell conducted a lively praise meeting during the services. Evangelist J. C. McCaslin, had as his subject Thursday evening, "Seven Heart-Searching Bible Questions," and emphasized the following:

1. "The Wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: Lo, they have rejected the word of the Lord and what wisdom is in them?" Jer. 8:9.

2. "How canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Baalim?" Jer. 2:23.

4. "What will ye do in the day of visitation which shall come from far? To whom will ye flee for help? Where will ye leave your glory? Where are the Gods that thou hast made? Let them arise and save thee in the time of trouble." Isa. 10:3, Jer. 2:28.

5. "The sinners in Zion are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? Who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?" Isa. 33:14.

6. Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell? Who shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" Matt. 23:33, Heb. 2:3.

7. "Why stand we in jeopardy every hour? Why will ye die?" First Cor. 15:30, Ezek. 33:11.

The subject Friday evening will be: "The Most Important Question any man Ever asked or Answered;" Saturday p. m., "Moral Insanity;" Sunday morning, "The Significance of church Membership;" Sunday afternoon, "Mother Home and Heaven;" Sunday p. m., "The Final Decision and the Eternal Destiny."

Pastor P. W. Boxell, Evangelist J. C. McCaslin and the members of the New Salem Methodist Protestant church expressed deep appreciation for the publicity given the meetings of the Daily Republican.

STREAMS SUBJECT TO POLLUTION

Conservation Department to Cooperate to Prevent Contamination of State's Waterways

FORECAST ACUTE SITUATION

Factory Wastes Discharged Into Streams Can be Converted into Valuable By-Products

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25—In a few weeks Hoosier streams will again be subjected to pollution and later as the summer advances the situation may become acute, especially when canning factories start operating at full capacity.

In order to provide the maximum safety from this source, steps are now being taken by the state conservation department to cooperate to the fullest measure with such industry and prevent contamination of the state's waterways.

The divisions of engineering and of fish and game, says Richard Lieber, will be particularly vigilant this season because the fact has often been proved that much sickness and even death in the state may be eliminated if the public water courses of the commonwealth are kept pure.

"It is not the desire of this department," Mr. Lieber says, "to prosecute and work a costly hardship on any individual or company. We much prefer to meet those who are violating the pollution laws, discuss the best remedial measures to be taken for the benefit of all, and set such machinery as needed into motion to eliminate the causes. We frequently find that much of the factory wastes discharged into streams and which poison the waters and kill aquatic life, can, with small expense, be converted into valuable by-products that go to make manufacturing more profitable. It is this end we seek rather than to force some one to pay a fine for an offense that is both costly and frequently exceedingly derogatory to public health."

Mr. Lieber called attention to a recent case at Greensburg where a wire factory was responsible for the death of thousands of fish in a local stream. This company it seems, emptied several tanks of water containing sodium cyanide into Sand Creek. The stream at the time was at flood stage but the poison was so deadly that it killed fish 30 miles below the point from where it entered the water. Had the stream not been at flood stage, and live stock of farmers drank from the stream, property loss would have been heavy, conservation officials believe. This company was prosecuted by George N. Mannfeld of the fish division, paid a fine of $50 and costs, and made other arrangements to care for factory wastes other than discharging them in the public watercourse. In the settlement of this case Mannfeld cleared up a situation that for two years or more was the mysterious cause of death of fish in this stream, Mr. Lieber said.

Here's What Bonus Bill, Passed by Congress, Provides

Washington, April 25—Here is what the bonus bill as passed by the senate and house provides:

Compensation to veterans on the basis of $1 a day for home service and $1.25 a day for overseas service, with maximum basic compensation of $500 and $625 respectively for the two classes of services. The first sixty days of service are not counted in computing basic compensation.

To veterans to whom $50 or less is due, payment in cash.

To veterans due $50 or more, the issuance of 20 year paid up endowment insurance policies. The face value of the policies is figured by increasing the basic compensation due the veteran by 25 percent plus compound interest on the figure so obtained at the rate of 4 1/2 percent for 20 years.

The resulting figure is multiplied by an arbitrary number derived from actuarial principles. For example, the multiplying figure for a veteran 32 years of age, the average veteran age, is 23.17.

The maximum value of a policy obtainable for an over-sea veteran of long service is between 1,600 and $1,800. Policy holders may borrow up to 90 percent of the value of their policies from banks after three years.

NON-UNION COAL IS COSTING LESS

Many Mines in Indiana Forced to Idleness on Account of the Cheaper Labor

COMPARISONS ARE MADE

Some Mines Sell Coal For $1.40 While Union Labor Makes Price Go up to $2.25 Ton

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25—Competition of non-union fields is forcing many Indiana mines in to idleness, Cairy Littlejohn, chief inspector of mines for Indiana said today.

Coal from the non-union fields, because of lower labor costs, is being sold at considerable less than Indiana coal, produced by union labor.

"Coal can be bought at the mine in Kentucky for about $1.40 a ton," Littlejohn said. "In Indiana, at the mine, the price is approximately $2.25."

As a result, 48 of the 215 mines in Indiana, were idle during the month of March, he said. The average for last year was between 35 and 40 mines.

The increase in idleness of Indiana mines does not mean there is a decrease in the demand, he declared. Actually, consumers are using just as much coal as ever, but are buying elsewhere.

As consequence of this situation, there is present in the Indiana fields a tendency toward consolidation of mines to reduce operating expenses.

"There are enough mines in Indiana to produce 75,000,000 tons of coal a year," he said. "The demand for Indiana coal is about 25,000,000 tons a year."

One eighth of the leading Hoosier mining companies could produce all the coal necessary to supply the demand for Indiana coal, he said.

Indiana uses about one half of the coal mined in the state, according to Littlejohn.

The local post also is anxious to obtain a correct registration of all former soldiers living in the county, as there is no correct list on record, and an effort is being made to collect information on each person who was in the service.

A flag pole is being erected at East Hill cemetery on the lot donated by the association to the legion, and appropriate flag raising exercises will be held soon. The flag pole will enable the colors to be raised during a patriotic service of any kind at the cemetery.

so worried about Judy's ancestry; her uncle, Jervis Pendleton, who has no patience with the girls, especially his niece, Sallie McBride's brother, James McBride of Yale, John Kendall.

In this act Mr. Pendleton has a private talk with Judy and finds out that she calls him "Daddy Long Legs", of course it being unknown to her that Mr. Pendleton is the one that has been so nice to her and sent her to college. His love for her increases and he makes arrangements to send her to Lock Willow, a country home, where he spent his boyhood days, with his nurse, Mrs. Simple, Margaret Oster.

Judy and her room mates are having a glorious time at Lock Willow in the third act, with Mrs. Simple who has charge of the summer home. Mrs. Simple is a typical old lady, who listens to all her neighbors talk on the telephone and who is always giving advice. Mr. Pendleton arrives unexpectedly at Lock Willow just to spend a day, and finds an opportunity to propose to Judy.

In the last act the situation is more complicated and the climax of the story is one of the interesting parts of the whole play. The way Judy finds out that Mr. Pendleton has been playing the double role of her lover and her Daddy Long Legs, is cleverly carried out and the actors do justice to their parts.

All the members of the cast shared in the success of the play, as all of them were well adapted to their part of the play and much praise was heard today for the production. Miss Dorothy Hamrick, English teacher, directed the play and through her efforts the play was well staged.

Music between acts was provided by the high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Gretchen Peterman. The play will be staged again tonight, and according to the ticket sale, another large audience will greet the performance.

LOUIS MAUZY IS SELECTED

To Direct I. U. Campaign in County To Elect Alumni Trustee

(Special to the Daily Republican.)
Indianapolis, Ind., April 24—Mr. Louis Mauzy of Rushville, Ind., has been selected director for Rush county in the state-wide campaign among graduates of Indiana University to elect Roy O. Pike of Bloomington, Ind., alumni trustee. A volunteer organization will be formed among friends of Mr. Pike in every county in the State, it was announced here today. Under the law, graduates of the University residing in Indiana, will elect this year one representative on the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Pike is a prominent business man and banker and headed the recent movement of Bloomington citizens to obtain a new source of water supply. He was a great athlete in his college days. Supporters of Pike are urging his election on the platform, "Pike for Progress."

WILL ASK REPEAL OF NEW CERTIFICATE LAW

Two Important Educational Measures to be Placed Before Next Session of State Legislature

OTHER COUNTY UNIT SYSTEM

Crawfordsville, Ind., April 25—Two important educational measures will be placed before the next session of the state legislature, in the opinion of Professor George Tapy, head of the department of education at Wabash college. One will be an attempt to repeal the present state law for strict requirements made of candidates for teachers' certificates, according to Professor Tapy. The second will be a movement for the county unit system of taxation for school purposes, he believes.

The movement to repeal the new teacher's certificate law will be quite natural, Professor Tapy believes. "This is always the case after any new step has been taken," he said, "but it will be a move back to the primitive ways of education to repeal the law adopted last year."

Professor Tapy is heartily in favor of the county unit system, as he believes it will give better schools at a less ultimate cost.

"Those who favor the unit system are steadily growing in number, although it is a matter of speculation whether the bill will pass the state legislature at its next session," he said.

OLD DOBBIN IS DISCARDED

Horses And Wagons Replaced by Trucks by American Express Co.

The latest business in Rushville to discard old Dobbin for automobile service, is the American Railway Express company. The horses and wagons that have been in service here for years, today were shipped into headquarters and the outfits replaced by two modern trucks. The new green trucks were making their first rounds today, covering the territory in much quicker time and carrying even larger loads than formerly. The express horses and the old familiar rattle of the big wagons are now only a memory of the days that "have gone forever".

Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard,
neither have entered into the heart
of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.—
1 Corinthians 2:9.

Government Waste

Not many of us will ever be able to understand why there is a constant agitation from political sources
—not from consumers—for government control or ownership of private business, which has been alone responsible for the remarkable growth
and development of this country.

Government control and ownership has not measured up whenever it has been put to the test, but so many people have short memories that advocates of a system, which would fasten millions of political employees on us, cling to the view
that they will eventually succeed.

Reports just published show that it costs $44,000 to rehabilitate every disabled war veteran. It seems that in "compensating" each soldier in the sum of $10, it cost $10,000. In other words, the overhead ate up one hundred times as much of the people's money as the soldier actually received.

Inefficiency and waste in government departments should provide evidence enough to convince the dubious that business should remain in private hands.

None can realize that better than the average newspaper editor who is deluged with government bulletins on almost every subject imaginable,
ranging from "The Windbreak as a Farm Asset" to the "Fluid Milk Market Report for the United States."

Going through a sample day's mail,
the editor finds that most of it came postage-free from government departments. It consists of bulletins that few, if any newspapers publish,
and that are prepared by some high-priced government employee who could very well be dispensed with and
put at some productive occupation.

The editor finds, for example,
"Many Farmers Saved by Pigs, Hens, Cows, Corn and Legumes." That's the subject of a long article of five typewritten pages. Then he comes to a fifteen-page typewritten summary of crop conditions. He also learns from another bulletin that the "Early Lamb Crop is Short." "Crows Are not So Black as They Are Painted,"
says another bulletin, throwing little
light on a dark subject.

What is true of the government department that comes to the defense of the crow is true of every other department.

Yet we are asked to permit private business to be conducted on the same wasteful scale as government departments are operated.

A Chance For Thrift

Opportunity for the practice of genuine thrift, absolutely apart from parsimony, is pointed to by fire loss statistics.

It is a national maxim of China
that that which is burned up is lost forever.

It is shown that in one year there was a fire loss of $500,000,000 of property in the United States. By far the great majority of fires are preventable.

Half a billion of perfectly good dollars is a handsome enough sum to command anybody's attention, and it is a deplorable thing to think of its being wasted in fire loss. That sort of loss is absolute.

Nor is the situation made better
by the reflection that property losses
are so frequently accompanied by grievous and costly loss of life; as

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—C. C. Dill, juvenile senatorial insurgent from Washington, believes that radio will ultimately unscramble the confusion of tongues resulting from the attempt to build the tower of Babel and that it will, in addition, accomplish more than all the statesmen and diplomats in history toward establishing world peace.

"I foresee the day," says Dill, "when a universal language will result from world-wide broadcasting by radio."

"The better understanding, the friendlier relationship, that will be promoted by this means of communication, will be the biggest factor in bringing universal peace."

If this end is to be accomplished, however, Dill maintains radio must be kept "free to the people."

"The air," he says, "is the only natural resource not already cornered for private exploitation."

To prevent special interests from obtaining a vested right in radio broadcasting, denying the air to all who do not pay tribute and giving the right of censorship over what shall be broadcasted and who may hear it, Dill has introduced a bill to safeguard the public's interest in radio and broadcasting development.

Instead of music composers exacting pay for the broadcasting of their compositions by radio, as they have demanded in a hearing before Congress, they ought to pay to "get on the air," Dill contends, "for the value of the advertising they get."

"ROARING TOM" BLANTON of Texas has taken up the cudgels in defense of the cowboys of his state, whom he feels have well as suffering caused by inevitable accidents and burns that stop short of taking life outright.

What is happening every day in the fire menace and waste, shows clearly enough that we are still a very long way from indulgence in over cautiousness against fire.

There are opportunities in the situation for all to contribute towards reducing these calamitous losses, and practicing a kind of thrift that is indeed worth while.

That half billion could be put to infinitely better use; but not to worse.

An Old Bugbear

The United States Senate has passed a bill designed to prevent monopoly of radio communication and declares the air to be the "inalienable possession of the people" and prohibits licenses extending more than two years.

Just what does this mean? Some inventor, individual or company must pioneer in field of radio before any benefit from its use can be derived by the people. It is one thing to prevent monopoly—quite another to prevent progress and development.

Air legislation is just in the making. What it will eventually be no one can tell, but the constant scare about monopoly of the air will prevent people from getting development in wireless communication which should eventually become as much a household necessity as the electric light and the telephone.

Declaring the air to be the "inalienable possession of the people" sounds fine. But what does it mean if agencies for using it are denied to the people?

PEOPLE'S SAYSO

Rushville Financiering

Editor Republican:

Your news column report of the (secret?) "executive session" of the City Council on April 22nd, is highly interesting. Manifestly, your news item was inspired by the council itself for we are assured that issuing $30,000 more in bonds will not "increase" taxes. Since the principal of these bonds must be paid, and, if of a long time issue, an equal additional amount in interest, it would seem impossible to convince any one over six years of age, who is not a councilman, that no taxes will be required to pay probably $60,000 of principal and interest on these bonds.

Never, in its history, has Rushville had so reckless a council. With property assessed twenty-five percent, above its real value, the levy goes higher each succeeding year, and hereafter it must go up by leaps and bounds. The park bond issue of $24,000 and the proposed City Hall issue of $30,000—both in the space of a few months—will require, in principal and interest, about $100,000 to liquidate. There are probably fifteen hundred families in Rushville; if so, the primary arithmetic children could inform the Council that these bond issues will impose an average family tax burden of about $67.00.

We are told that the City Hall is a disgrace. What is it used for? The Council meets there for an hour every two weeks. The place is about like the office of the average prosperous business man of Rushville, and it should be sufficient to meet the needs of the average councilman. The mayor holds his Court there. Has he complained He conducts a very successful business in his private office that has no more artistic settings than the City Hall "disgrace".

Now, our worthy mayor is amply able financially, to remodel his place of business, and make it the finest on the "Race". He could do it for less than $30,000 and doubtless without issuing bonds. But I am sure he will borrow no such foolishness from the City Council. A place artistic enough to conduct a successful chicken business should be equally so for the trial of common bums. Manifestly, the "disgrace" must come in the lack of artistic decoration of a place for policemen to loaf; but many good citizens believe that a policeman's proper place is down on the streets attending to his official duties. In fact, most of our middle-aged people remember when our whole police force consisted of Bent Monjar, on a salary of less than $75.00 per month. Moreover, they remember how perfectly he managed the job, even though he had to look after the turbulence cause by fifteen saloons, which do not now call for police watching.

When William M. Tweed ran New York City fifty years ago, it was thought that city extravagance had reached its climax, but the per capita cost of city government then and there was lower than it is now in Rushville.

Can there be any "disgrace" so keen as that of a bonded debt foisted on the next generation by the cowardly, thriftless, present one? Jeffersonville was once one of the principal manufacturing cities of Indiana. The people there selected reckless city officers who burdened it with debts that drove the manufacturers away and killed the town. How far behind Jeffersonville will Rushville be at the present rate of debt inflation?

Rushville taxpayers need an awakening. They should at once demand an investigation, by the State Board of Accounts, of our city affairs. They ought to appeal to the State Board of Tax Commissioners to stop this reckless issue of bonds. You may win a little at the necessity of calling on Governor McCray's appointees to save you from the folly of your fellow townsmen, but these same commissioners have often furnished much needed relief, and likely they would here.

Our voters ought, on primary day, vote only for legislative candidates pledged to so change our municipal bond laws as to prevent any bond issue without a referendum, and to make city officers' terms two years, as formerly, instead of four, so that they may get rid of unworthy officials.

We can't have any money for necessities if we spend all our income for non-essentials. We have the highest taxes and the worst streets in Rushville's history. We are to have a new "custodian" for the park in the bottom of Hodges Branch; probably two or three for the gilded City Hall, when finished to the artistic taste of council connoisseurs. Of course, that won't "increase taxes". Increased taxes have doubled rents in Rushville. Unless the reckless extravagance be stopped, rents will again double unless, in disgust, people abandon the town.

Is it time to wake up?

To the Candidates for Delegates to the Republican State Convention

The voters are generally informed that The Ku Klux Klan have candidates that they are backing for each and every office to be voted for in the coming primary in both the Republican and Democrat Parties in Rush County, including Precinct Committeemen and Delegates to the State Convention.

The public generally know who the candidates are that the Klan is backing for the various county offices, but they do not know how the candidates for delegates to the State Convention will vote for Governor, in case no Governor is nominated at the Primary.

We are Republican voters in Rushville Township and we vote for five delegates out of ten candidates as delegates to the State Convention.

That we may vote intelligently, we think it would be no more than fair to us and to every voter that we know how these candidates for delegates stand.

Who do you intend to support for Governor when you go to the State Convention, providing no Governor is nominated at the Primary?

Let us hear from you, Mr. and Mrs. Candidate for for State Delegate.

Another feature attraction is a special high jump.

Charles Brookins, world's record holder in the 220 yard low hurdles, is one of the contestants who will compete in a classic field of barrier skimmers in the former event. L. T. Brown former Dartmouth star, and Harold Osborne, formerly of the University of Illinois, will try to break the world's record of six feet 7 5-16 inches on the high jump.

Thirty events will be run off today and a like number is on the program for tomorrow.

New York, April 25—America would run away with the Olympic tennis championship with a team composed of Bill Tilden, Vinnie Richards, Dick Williams, Watson Washburn, Frank Hunter and the Kinsey brothers. These players were selected by the United States Lawn Tennis Association as members of the team, but they will not be able to play because of the rule passed by the Olympic committee that no athletes on the team can act as newspaper correspondents.

Hunter is a newspaper editor, and Tilden, Richards and the Kinseys are contributors to newspapers. Dick Williams, although it had not been announced officially, may resign from the team for the reason that he can't get away from business. Bill Johnston, the little California star, let it be known long ago that he could not go to Paris for the same reason.

Unless the Olympic committee relents or unless the athletes who have been earning money with their typewriters give in, Uncle Sam will have a very weak tennis team at the games instead of a combination that would be invincible against anything in the world.

"Business reasons" may be a big handicap to the organization of the big Olympic team. Dick Landon, figured for a point or two in the high jump, has announced that he will not seek a place on the team because he can't get away from his business. The American hockey team was not representative of the full strength of the country, because several star players could not make the trip.

Some day in the near future it is practically certain that the idea of the Swedes that athletes are entitled to be compensated for the time they lose from their business will not be frowned on now as such a terrible effort at the spirit of pure amateurism.

Effect of the ruling of the tennis association that players could not retain their amateur standing if they continue to write for compensation after Jan. 1, 1925, was eagerly awaited by the association from foreign countries. Australia was the first to register an impression and it was a very wise one. The Australian association voted that their players who came to the United States to play in the Davis Cup matches this summer could write for newspapers—provided their copy was sent home by mail and not transmitted by cable. This was a very smart way of stopping what might be regarded as a necessary evil.

WILL GET ALONG WITHOUT TILDEN

U. S. Olympic Team will Look Elsewhere for a Contender Following His Resignation

BARRED BY ASSOCIATION

Players Who Have Journalistic Aspirations Eliminated From Championship Series

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 25—If Bill Tilden does not care to play in the Olympic games or Davis cup matches the United States tennis team will have to get along without him.

This will be the attitude of the United States Lawn Tennis association resulting from Tilden's announcement in Philadelphia last night that he had resigned from the Olympic and Davis cup teams, it was learned today.

Tilden said he had no other course open after the report of the amateur rules committee had been made public Saturday night in which he referred to as being "an evil influence" on the game because his journalistic activities.

No official comment was made by the association but significance was attached to the statement of Helcombe Ward, chairman of the amateur rules committee—"I'm sorry that Tilden has reached this decision."

The champion said that unless the association ruled he was an amateur he would not play in the Olympic or Davis cup matches and would only defend his title in the national championships.

Since the rule barring playwrights is not to become effective until January 1, 1925, the association cannot rule Tilden out of amateur competition for violation of a rule that does not officially exist.

The association will take the position that it has already recognized Tilden as an amateur for the 1924 season by appointing him to a place on the Olympic tennis team and by announcing him as a candidate for the Davis cup team.

Tilden some time ago wrote the association declaring that he was willing to do anything wanted of him this summer. His action was generally interpreted here as an attempt to force the hand of the association and one that could not be successful because the association has gone so far in crusading against the playwrights that it cannot take a back step.

New York—Maurice Snell of Robby, Ind., visited New York for the first time in four years. He was presented with a "court" summons charging speeding, which was issued four years ago. He was fined $100.

YANKEES GETTING ON THEIR FEET

Babe Ruth is Hitting Better and the Veteran Pitchers are Working Well After Sickness

MUCH BETTER BALANCED NOW

Yankees Ought to Repeat as Champions, Says Manager. But There Will be no Chance to Loaf

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 25—With Babe Ruth hitting and with the veteran pitchers working better, the New York Yankees are beginning to get on their feet in the American League pennant race.

"We have a veteran club and it was not to be expected that the players would step off on high speed," Miller Huggins, manager of the Yanks, said today. "We had a lot of bad weather in Boston and the Boys are not in good condition."

"Babe Ruth is all full of a cold. Joe Bush has been bothered by a sore arm, and the other pitchers can't do their best until the weather gets warmer."

Huggins figures that the American League is much better balanced now than it was last year and that there is going to be a real pennant fight. The Yankees ought to repeat as the champions, he said, "but as long as Cleveland and Detroit are in the race there will be no chance to loaf."

Ruth got his second homer of the season Wednesday and it may give him his start. He has been worried, the players say, about the trouble he had in getting started and he was getting the idea that his eyes were going bad. Although he insists that he is in good shape and is able to play every day, the players feel that he has not picked up after the attack of flu that took him down at Hot Springs early in the training season.

Chicago—Chicago University students are off today in a moustache race. In three weeks the winner will be picked "on the quality and length of hair."

SAFETY SUE HAS NEW RHYME POSTED ON HER SLATE TODAY

One of the saddest sights our eyes have ever seen is that of a crippled boy or girl, who must struggle through life on crutch or with a cane or perhaps even in a wheeled chair—and it is all the sadder to know that such misfortune was the result of some one's failure to think and be careful. Accidents are almost always caused by someone being thoughtless or careless. The Daily Republican wants all the happy boys and girls in Rush County to grow up and be men and women with whole healthy bodies, so their lives may be pleasant.

That's why the Republican asks everyone of its young friends to join its big contest to win the nice, new dollar being given each day as a prize to the boy or girl writing the best rhyme to complete Safety Sue's verse about being careful. There's a new verse on Safety Sue's slate today, but it needs another line to make it complete. Can you? Why, of course! And maybe you can think of a better one than any other boy or girl. If you do, you will be the winner. So sit down right now and write the best line you can think of, on the blank lines. Bring or send your finished verse to the Republican office so we will get it not later than 5:30 p. m. Monday and your rhyme may win the nice, bright

new dollar as a prize. The winner will be announced Tuesday.

Don't be discouraged if you have tried and failed to win. Keep right on trying. You may win any day, or you may win more than once. But you must really try to make a good, true rhyme, and to do that you must think hard about what boys and girls and grown folks, too, must do to avoid getting hurt or killed.

Don't forget the BIGGER, BETTER REWARD, which I'll tell you about, later!

Help me keep all little boys and girls from getting hurt or killed.

The winner for the first rhyme contest will be announced Monday. SAFETY SUE

MAKE DAD DIG UP A COAT OF ARMS TO BE STRICTLY IN FASHION

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for United Press)

New York, April 25—A "Who's Who" wave is spreading over the fashion world. It began by the use of monograms, and as the monogram vogue became too popular, family crests and coats-of-arms were pressed into service. When Tillie Malone sported "T. M." on her shirt-waist along with Mrs. Astor's more elaborate entwining of letters, the monogram was doomed.

After all, what's in a name as compared with what's in a family crest? Those of the Four Hundred are raking up coats-of-arms of every description, whether authentic or not. Having the coat-of-arms of one's clubs embroidered on one's sport attire is another novel note. Fetters ranging from elephants to horned toads trim Milady's hankies, her nighties and her mannish sports tie.

From the looks of some of the red and white striped ties one would think "a stick of peppermint candy" was the main love of the debutante.

So, girls, if you can't sport something better and less commonplace than your own initials, get the bug and dig up a family crest somewhere. If dad was a seaman, maybe an anchor done in gold would be pretty. The pawnbroker's daughter could use three gold balls. If dad has raked in a lot of shekles doing nothing, work a $20 gold-piece on your hip pocket. But get something distinctive. Don't let the "nouveau riche" put anything over on us.

FASHION TIPS

White will undoubtedly be popular this summer, both for day and evening wear. At Palm Beach lately the vogue for white has become extremely popular. Bright-colored top coats collared in ermine are worn with the white crepe frock. White fox furs and caracul jaquettes are seen in great number. One popular New York debutante wears a white caracul jaquette, with collar, cuffs and border of black caracul.

White homespun coats of three-quarter length are collared, and cuffed in cross-fox and leopard by the fashionables at the Winter resorts. White kid jaquettes of kid-glove texture are collared in white fox. White flannel dresses and suits are having a great vogue.

And white jewelry, such as ivory crystal and white jade are among the newest notes in jewelrywear. White beaded gowns for evening are seen in greater numbers than colors and will carry on into the Summer months.

Sporty Vest

Black and white checked vests, on double-breasted lines, are shown in some of the smartest New York shops for women's wear. These are of the variety formerly attributed to the race track sport, who augmented his color scheme by wearing a red tie. Peculiar to say, the lady of today also dons a red tie with her checked vest.

Jewelry

Earrings are regaining their popularity—those of long, ornate types being most in demand.

Bone bracelets, either carved or plain, are worn considerably for daytime wear. Flexible diamond bracelets and their substitutes, the brilliants, are used for evening wear. Those huge, lined affairs recently introduced in New York are not being worn by better groomed women. Flappers are occasionally heard rattling by with them.

SAUER GAINED 18 LBS. ON TANLAC TREATMENT

Indianapolis Man Tells of Recovery From Indigestion, Torpid Liver and Constipation.

"The TANLAC treatment took me off the ragged edge of a bad breakdown and gave me health and strength that make life and work a pleasure," is the striking statement of Arthur Sauer, 55 West Pleasant Run Drive, Indianapolis, Indiana.

"About a year ago my stomach went wrong and then nearly everything seemed to go wrong with my health. Indigestion, loss of appetite, restless sleep, pains in the back and chest, headaches, torpid liver, constipation and dizziness worked on me until my nerves gave way and I became pale and haggard and only a shadow of my former self."

"Since taking TANLAC I have gained eighteen pounds and my health is just about perfect. I eat everything, sleep like a baby and feel fine. I certainly have good reasons for praising TANLAC."

Stiff, Swollen Joints

Joint-Ease

Says: "When Joint-Ease Gets in—Joint Agony Gets Out."

It was a high-class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription fail to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff inflamed joints.

And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make creaky, swollen, tormented joints work with just as much smoothness as they ever did.

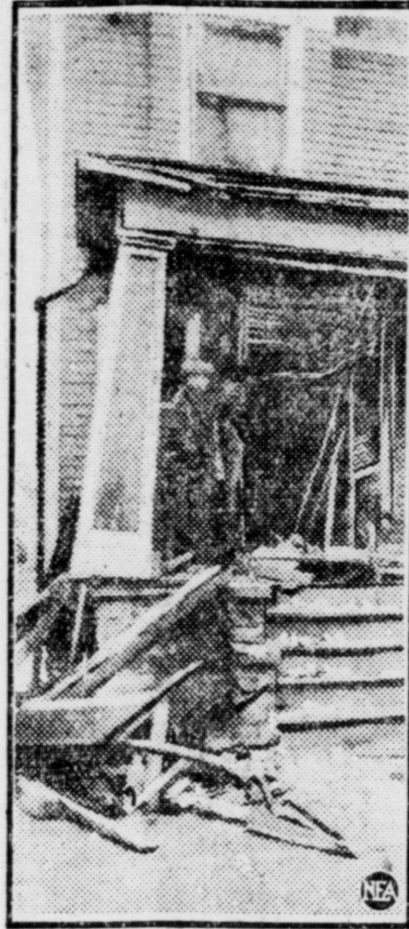

Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many obstinate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacists to the millions of people who suffer from ailing joints that need limbering up.

Swollen, twingy, inflamed, stiff, pain-tormented joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but whatever the cause Joint-Ease soaks right in, through skin and flesh and gets right to and corrects the trouble at its source.

Remember Joint-Ease is for ailments of the joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, spine or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and gratifying results.

It is now on sale at all druggists and druggists everywhere for 60 cents a tube. —Advertisement

You Expect it to Cost More

When people first see this Oldsmobile Sport Touring Car, they invariably assume its price to be anywhere from $500 to $800 higher than it really is.

That is why the Sport Touring is in such great demand. Its very apparent extra value offers too great a buying opportunity to be overlooked.

This car, with its extraordinarily complete equipment, its fine performance qualities and its beautiful bronze green color would be impossible at anywhere near the price, were it not for the pronounced manufacturing advantages resulting from the close cooperation of Oldsmobile and General Motors.

Come and examine this car. Accept a demonstration.

Don't Envy Me

Youth and beauty are at your command
BY EDNA WALLACE HOPPER

I made myself a famous beauty. For 55 years as a stage star I have played a beauty's part. I have kept that beauty. At a grandmother's age I retain my youthful bloom.

I owe this to four great beauty helps, perfected by French experts. They form, I believe, the greatest beauty helps in existence. They have brought to many of my friends just what they brought to me. I am convinced that millions can obtain like benefits from them. So I am now placing these supreme helps at every woman's call.

White Youth Clay

One is my White Youth Clay. Not like the crude and muddy clays so many still employ. This is a super-clay, white, refined and dainty—perfected by 20 years of scientific study. Its results will amaze and delight you.

Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs or mars it. It revives the skin—makes it clear and rosy. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. It multiplies one's beauty. And my girl's complexion shows how it keeps one's youth.

Many women seem to drop ten years with one application of White Youth Clay. The cost is 50c and $1.

Two Master Creams

My Youth Cream is my cold cream. It contains products of both strawberry and lemon, also all the best that science knows to foster the fine texture of the skin.

I apply it after the clay. Also as a night cream, also daytime as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. In all my world-wide search I never found another cream which brings comparable results. The price is 60 cents.

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser which I found in France. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. So it cleans to the depths, then departs. All the refuse, all the dirt and grime come out with it. No other method leaves the skin so clean.

The greatest beauty experts now advise this cleanser, but they charge $3 for it. My Facial Youth costs 75c.

My Hair Youth

My hair is my chief glory. It is heavy, silky, lustrous, and grows finer every year. I have never known dandruff, falling hair or gray hair. The reason lies in my Hair Youth. It is based on lifetimes of hair study. I apply it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. There it combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. It stimulates and fertilizes. My luxuriant hair shows what that means, both to men and women. My Hair Youth costs 50c and $1.

All druggists and toilet counters now supply Edna Wallace Hopper's products. So all who wish may now enjoy these matchless beauty helps. Try one and you will use them all. Go now and learn how much they mean to you. With each one comes my Beauty Book and a guarantee. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

WINNING STORY IN ORANGE GRADE ENGLISH SHORT STORY CONTEST

The following short story by Ruby Leonard, an Orange school eighth grade pupil, was awarded first place in a contest conducted by the teacher, Miss Helen Moore, who promised the pupils that the winning stories would be published in the Daily Republican. The story follows and is entitled:

THE LOST CAMPER

It was a tremendous hot day and the roguish, laughing sun was showing its anxious face through God's beautiful heavens. I and several other boys and girls were about twenty miles from home on a jolly camping trip. A bluish trickling river found its way near us, by a winding line across the landscape. We were all playing games, except Peggy Newman who decided to go gather flowers.

Peggy gathered her flowers, but instead of returning immediately to the rock where we were, she wandered further along the marshy shore, hoping to find a few odd plants to complete her bouquet. A good hour elapsed before she finally got back to us.

"Where's Ruth?" Peggy asked.

Jim Brown raised his head and removed the cigarette from his mouth. "Why, I thought she was with you! She left here to follow you."

And so did all the others think this.

At this moment they all went on a search for Ruth. Peggy went her way and the rest went theirs. Once or twice she stopped to call Ruth's name. The others were doing the same in the village, and she could hear the echo of their voices, as she tripped along. When she reached the flat rock whose shelving edge disappeared in the water, forming the dam of the waterfall over which the river was cascading, she paused and anxiously looked around. Ruth was nowhere in sight.

She stood a moment in silence, glancing down at the bottomless pool and the steaming cloud of vapor, rising from it. A splash of crimson whirled around in the water appearing and disappearing. She watched it with fascinated eyes, vaguely conscious of something familiar, and yet puzzled. She leaned far over the precipice until growing dizzy, she jerked back just as the girls and boys came up on a run. She had it in her head that Ruth had drowned in the river. They soon had another notion in her head and started on another search.

We walked for about a mile when we came to an ante-diluvian, rude hut, from which black smoke was roaring out. Around it was stretched a great expansion of grass and flowers. We went up to the cabin and knocked. Open swung a little door and a large man stood before us.

He was gross with a thick, stocky neck. Except for a watch-fob and scarf pin he was dressed quietly enough in a dark suit that bore all marks of faultless and expensive tailoring, over a loose heavy figure that was not easy to fill. His hair was quit gray, close cut and growing far back off his temples. I supposed him to be about fifty years of age.

"Is Ruth Moore here," I asked. "Step right inside and I think you will find her sitting here talking to my daughter," said he.

"We went in and Peggy ran to Ruth, threw her arms around the girl as if glad to see her.

"Why what possessed you to come here?" asked Peggy.

"I-I started out to find you, but could not, and I wound up here," replied Ruth trembling.

Peggy fully recovered from her sorrowfulness, and wanted to go home. They all prepared to go home the next day, before such an accident could happen again.

WOUND IN HEAD CAUSE OF DEATH

Harry Richey, Formerly of Milroy,
Injured in Unknown Manner and
Never Regained Consciousness

DIES AT FORT WORTH, TEXAS

Whether He Met With Foul Play or
Fell While at Work Was Not
Known—Body Being Returned

Harry Richey, age thirty-seven years, a former resident of Milroy, died Wednesday night at ten o'clock, at his home in Fort Worth, Texas, from the effects of an injury he sustained in some unknown way on Tuesday, April 8, according to word received at Milroy Thursday.

Mr. Richey, who was found unconscious in his garage at Fort Worth two weeks ago last Tuesday with an ugly wound in his head, and the cause of his injury could not be learned because he had never regained consciousness.

Whether the former Milroy man met with foul play or fell over on the floor and cut his head while at work is not known. There was no evidence of an attempt at robbery, it is said.

Spinal meningitis developed from the wound and he underwent an operation in a Fort Worth hospital, Tuesday, April 15. This did not relieve the injured man and he was operated on a second time, when it was found that he had a blood clot on his brain.

Mr. Richey had only one arm, one having been cut off in a fodder shredder on a farm near Milroy about seventeen years ago.

After this misfortune, he went into the garage business and acquired some fame as an endurance driver of automobiles. He drove a car from Indianapolis to Davenport, Iowa, which at that time was the longest non-stop trip on record.

The deceased is survived by the widow, his father, John Richey of Fort Worth, and two sisters, Mrs. Clifford Johnston of Milroy and Mrs. J. E. Spillman of Indianapolis.

The body is enroute to Milroy now and will arrive in Greensburg Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. The remains will be taken to the home of the deceased's aunt, Mrs. Edgar Thomas, where funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and burial will take place in the Milroy cemetery.

OBTAINS AN AWARD FOR CONSULS' WIDOWS

Sen. Watson Responsible for Amendment Which Will Give Mrs. Ross
Hazeltime a Year's Salary.

HUSBAND DIED IN AFRICA

Senator James E. Watson, according to a Washington dispatch, appeared before the senate appropriations committee Thursday, and obtained incorporation in the state department appropriations bill of an amendment providing for the payment of a year's salary to the widows of two Indiana men who lost their lives while abroad in the consular service.

One of the widows to be thus benefited, if the bill is passed by the senate, is Mrs. Ross Hazeltime of Columbus, formerly Miss Carrie Kitchen of this city.

Mr. Hazeltime died while at his post of duty at Lourenco, Marques, Portuguese East Africa, July 5, 1922. He had been in the consular service thirteen years, serving several different countries. It was considered that his health had been impaired by the various changes of climate he experienced while serving his government. His service took him to various countries of South America and Africa. Senator Watson has been working for the past year to have a year's salary awarded to Mr. Hazeltime's widow, but until now had been unable to get a favorable consideration.

"Both men died in the service of their country. They rendered an important service at comparatively small pay. I am glad for the government to award some compensation to their families," said Senator Watson.

BUS GOES INTO THE DITCH

Driver, Who Had No Passengers, Es-
capes Without Injury

One of the busses that operates between Rushville and Indianapolis, went into the ditch early this morning, shortly after midnight, but the driver, who was the only occupant, escaped without any injuries.

The accident happened near the Bruce Johnson home, this side of Arlington. The driver is believed to have lost control of the large bus, and it went into the ditch, and rolled over on its side. It was not damaged to any great extent, and it is considered miraculous that the driver was not injured.

PROGRAM IN THE FORENOON

Local Post Hopes to See Posts in County Combined—Compiling List
of Ex-Service Men

At a meeting of Rush Post 150, American Legion, the organization has decided to take part in the annual Memorial Day celebration May 30, when the graves of the Civil War veterans will be decorated, and a speaking program arranged.

The local legion post will engage a speaker of prominent repute, and the ceremonies will be held in the forenoon on that day.

An appeal for all patriotic orders to take part in the services was made this week by the G. A. R. post, and all organizations were requested to have representatives at the meeting in the court house May 3, when the Civil War veterans will hold their regular session.

The Rush Post will make a concerted drive for membership in the near future. The legion here has made one of the best records of any in the state in the past few months, with the membership having been doubled.

Some of the members of the posts in the towns of the county which have not been active in recent months, have plans on foot of combining their charters, and all of the legion posts being assigned to this city, under the name of the Rush County Post.

In this way, it would provide the post with a solid unit which could be combined with much more pressure in achieving results and bringing good for the interests of the World War veterans.

It is understood that several of the outlying posts have surrendered their charters, or are about on the verge of doing so, and if all of the World War veterans would associate

Unwelcome Guest Throws First Floor of Court House Into Furor

Pet Opossum of Custodian Goes on Sight-Seeing Trip and Plays 'Pos-
sum in County Agent's Office Under Corn Racks—Given Freedom
For the Summer

The court house has had an inhabitant all winter, it was disclosed late Thursday, when the animal got hungry and tired of its lodging in the basement, and found refuge in the big piles of corn loaded on racks in the county agent's office.

This strange guest threw the first floor of the court house into a furor, and especially the county agent's office where Miss Frances Geraghty is employed.

When the visitor was discovered by Robert Marshall in the corn testing part of the county agent's office, only a big tail was seen from underneath one of the racks where the corn was piled.

He didn't want to venture further in the investigation, and he called help. When Miss Geraghty let out a wild scream, the tail gave a short twist. Other people in the court house came running into the room.

Earl Conway punched the tail with his crutch. No one had enough courage to lend a hand. George Mitchell, the custodian, heard the commotion and arrived upon the scene.

He showed courage and reached down and took a good grip on the tail, and pulled out an animal, about the size of a full grown cat. It was only the custodian's pet opossum that got venturously, and was attracted by the smell of the corn.

The opossum had been making his home all winter in the basement, feasting on rats and mice. One night last fall dogs had the opossum up a tree in the court house yard, and Mr. Mitchell captured him, and gave him a place in the basement.

Yesterday, someone left the basement door open, and Mr. 'possum went on a sight-seeing trip. The custodian decided that it would be best to let him go for the summer, and his pet was taken to the edge of the city and turned loose.

Miss Geraghty is making inquiry into zoology, trying to ascertain if the 'possum has any characteristics of a cat, and she will live in fear for several days expecting the unwelcome visitor to return home. According to Mr. Mitchell, the last he saw of his pet, he was making rapid speed toward Maunzy.

Terre Haute—Clarence Baskett talked himself into a $5 fine when he attempted to explain to the judge the proper method of mixing a Jamaican ginger highball.

Rev. Gibson Wilson Will Speak at
The Service—Order Has Made
Remarkable Growth

Arrangements have been perfected by the Odd Fellows of this city to celebrate the 105th anniversary of the founding of the order by attending services at the First Presbyterian Church next Sunday evening, when the Rev. Gibson Wilson will conduct the service. Mr. Wilson is Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Indiana at the present time and has also held a similar position in the Grand Lodge of Ohio.

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows was founded in Baltimore April 26th, 1819 by five men who met in a tavern in answer to an advertisement inserted in a newspaper by Thomas Wildey, an Englishman. It has flourished and grown until today it has over two and one half million members and last year paid out over $7,000,000 for the relief of its members. It also maintains 87 homes for orphans and aged, with over eight million dollars invested in them.

The local lodge, Franklin Lodge No. 35, was founded May 13, 1846 and is the oldest fraternal organization in the county, and has always been prominent in the state councils. The members have been notified to meet at the temporary quarters in Main street Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock and go to the church in a body. The officers are urging that every member attend and join in this service and it is anticipated that the capacity of the church will be tested to accommodate the congregation.

DISCOUNTED NOTE FOR McCRAY

Bank Official Says A. E. Herriman
Co., Was Represented to be Worth
$155,000—Was Small Firm

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25—A financial statement sent out by Governor McCray, representing the "A. E. Herriman Company" to be worth $155,000, lead the Marshall, Indiana, state bank to discount paper for the governor, H. G. Chandler, cashier of the bank testified today in the federal court trial of McCray.

A note for $1,250 on the "Herriman Company" given the Marshall bank is one the government alleges McCray forged and went through the mails. McCray is being tried on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails.

Later Chandler testified Thomas Barr, a deputy state bank examiner, bought the note and took up all the correspondence relative to it. Chandler said he had no knowledge of the financial condition of the Herriman company, maker of the note. The statement sent him by the governor, represented the concern as being worth $155,000, the witness testified.

The government contends the Herriman Company was a small road contracting firm in which McCray was a partner. The note was bought from the bank October 8, 1923 by Barr, the witness said. This was after McCray's financial failure had become public and just before a grand jury investigation of his affairs was started.

Richmond, Ind., April 25—John Gephart, 65, farmer living two miles south of Straughn, in Rush county, was instantly killed and three members of his family were probably fatally hurt when their automobile was struck by an interurban car near Straughn, twenty miles west of here, today.

Gephart's wife, age 60, a grandson Richard, 6, and a granddaughter, Marjory, 18 months, children of their son Raymond Gephart were the injured.

It is believed that Gephart, who was driving, did not hear the warning whistle of the approaching interurban.

The three injured were being removed to a hospital in Newcastle. The body of Gephart was held at the scene of the accident pending the arrival of the Henry county coroner.

DADDY LONG LEGS IS WELL RECEIVED

High School Senior Class Play Presented Before Large Audience
Thursday Evening

PARTS EXCELLENTLY TAKEN

Interpretation of Two Principal Characters Responsible Largely
For Success of Play

"Daddy Long Legs" the Senior class play of the high school, was splendidly presented Thursday evening as the second performance, at the Graham Annex auditorium, before a large audience, and judging from the response, it was well received. The class put on the first performance Thursday afternoon for the grade children.

The whole action of the play centered around Judy Abbott, Miss Jean Herkless, who had been an orphan for eighteen years in the John Grier Home, and Daddy Long Legs, Douglas Morris, a rich trustee, who falls in love with the orphan and sends her to college. Miss Herkless acted the part of Judy excellently, and soon won the hearts of her audience with her interpretation of the part. Douglas Morris was also well fitted for the principal role and his stage actions were very natural. His interpretation of Daddy Long Legs was fine and was in a large measure responsible for the success of the play.

The first act was a scene in the John Grier Orphan's Home. The orphans, Helen Spivey, Virginia Hogsett, Dorothy Beecraft, Frances Martox and Elizabeth Manning, were typical in their blue-check gingham dresses. Miss Hazel Dugal acted the part of Mrs. Lippert, the ferocious matron of the Home, in fine style. In this act the Orphan's Home is visited by Mr. Wycoff, Ira McIlwain, a pompous trustee, Miss Pritchard, the secretary, Beulah Phillips, who is very tactful, and Jervis Pendleton, Douglas Morris, another trustee. During the visit of the noted guests Judy, who is an overseer of the Orphans, is vexed by the stern matron and creates a scene, in which she rebels against the Home and wishes she could leave the place she so detests. Mr. Pendleton at once takes a liking to the orphan, and makes arrangements to send her to college, but takes the fictitious name of Mr. Smith and through the aid of Miss Pritchard, the secretary, Judy was sent to College.

When the curtain went up for act two, Judy was in her study at college with her two room mates, Julia Pendleton, Mildred Retherford, and Sallie McBride. Rena Mae Norris, the girls are preparing for company, their guests to be Julia Pendleton's mother, Mary Elizabeth Beale, who is

First One of its Kind Granted in
Rush County is Awarded to Milroy
High School

The Milroy school system today received a Junior-Senior commission from the state board of education, and the commission is for a period of a year, it being the first one of its kind to be granted a school in Rush county.

The commission is for a "six-six" school plan, in which the Junior and Senior high school is divided into two equal periods of three years, and the elementary grades are from one to six, inclusive. The Rushville high school has a different commission, in that the Junior high school consists of two years and the regular high school four years.

Several other schools in the county are attempting to obtain commissions under the "six-six" plan, and may be successful as soon as certain requirements are met.

The high school at Homer in Walker township is to be discontinued after the present term, and next fall, a Junior high school will be inaugurated, and this will be the only town or school in the county having an exclusive Junior high school.

Mr. Lancing's case is typical of thousands of others. He found permanent relief from constipation in Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read what he says:

Dear Sir: I have been afflicted with constipation for the past 15 years, and during that time I have been in four different hospitals and submitted to five different operations that were the result of constipation. I was getting so bad that every meal I ate soured on my stomach. Two months ago I was advised to eat your Kellogg's Bran. I tried it, and I was trying everything I could hear of. From that day on I have never taken a physic. My stomach does not sour any more and my bowels move regularly morning and evening. Yours sincerely, Frank Lancing, 1306 Jetties Ave., Marion, Ind. For permanent relief, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. Two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money. You will like the delicious nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran—so different from ordinary bran, which is unpalatable. Eat Kellogg's Bran with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumble, is served by leading hotels and clubs in individual packages. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

CAMPAIGN TO CLOSE SUNDAY

Evangelistic Meetings in Charge of Evangelist J. C. McCaslin at New Salem to End

Two More Conversions Reported Thursday Evening—Heart-Searching Bible Questions Pronounced

Evangelistic meetings at the New Salem Methodist Protestant church will close Sunday evening. Three services, including the reception of members, will be held Sunday. Two more conversions last evening added much to the interest of the meeting. Pastor P. W. Boxell conducted a lively praise meeting during the services. Evangelist J. C. McCaslin, had as his subject Thursday evening, "Seven Heart-searching Bible Questions," and emphasized the following:

1. "The Wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: Lo, they have rejected the word of the Lord and what wisdom is in them?" Jer. 8:9.
2. "How canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Baalim?" Jer. 2:23.
3. "What will ye do in the day of visitation which shall come from far? To whom will ye flee for help? Where will ye leave your glory? Where are the Gods that thou hast made? Let them arise and save thee in the time of trouble." Isa. 10:3, Jer. 2:28.
4. "The sinners in Zion are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? Who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?" Isa. 33:14.
5. "Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell? How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" Matt. 23:33, Heb. 2:3.
6. "Why stand we in jeopardy every hour? Why will ye die?" First Cor. 15:30, Ezek. 33:11.

The subject Friday evening will be: "The Most Important Question any man Ever asked or Answered," Saturday p. m., "Moral Insanity," Sunday morning, "The Significance of church Membership," Sunday afternoon, "Mother Home and Heaven," Sunday p. m., "The Final Decision and the Eternal Destiny."

Pastor P. W. Boxell, Evangelist J. C. McCaslin and the members of the New Salem Methodist Protestant church expressed deep appreciation for the publicity given the meetings of the Daily Republican.

STREAMS SUBJECT TO POLLUTION

Conservation Department to Cooperate to Prevent Contamination of State's Waterways

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25—In a few weeks Hoosier streams will again be subjected to pollution and later as the summer advances the situation may become acute, especially when canning factories start operating at full capacity.

In order to provide the maximum safety from this source, steps are now being taken by the state conservation department to cooperate to the fullest measure with such industry and prevent contamination of the state's waterways.

The divisions of engineering and of fish and game, says Richard Lieber, will be particularly vigilant this season because the fact has often been proved that much sickness and even death in the state may be eliminated if the public water courses of the commonwealth are kept pure.

"It is not the desire of this department," Mr. Lieber says, "to prosecute and work a costly hardship on any individual or company. We much prefer to meet those who are violating the pollution laws, discuss the best remedial measures to be taken for the benefit of all, and set such machinery as needed into motion to eliminate the causes. We frequently find that much of the factory wastes discharged into streams and which poison the waters and kill aquatic life, can, with small expense, be converted into valuable by-products that go to make manufacturing more profitable. It is this end we seek rather than to force some one to pay a fine for an offense that is both costly and frequently exceedingly derogatory to public health."

Mr. Lieber called attention to a recent case at Greensburg where a wire factory was responsible for the death of thousands of fish in a local stream. This company it seems, emptied several tanks of water containing sodium cyanide into Sandebeck. The stream at the time was at flood stage but the poison was so deadly that it killed fish 30 miles below the point from where it entered the water. Had the stream not been at flood stage, and live stock of farmers drank from the stream, property loss would have been heavy, conservation officials believe. This company was prosecuted by George N. Mannfeld of the fish division, paid a fine of $50 and costs, and made other arrangements to care for factory wastes other than discharging them in the public watercourse. In the settlement of this case Mannfeld cleared up a situation that for two years or more was the mysterious cause of death of fish in this stream, Mr. Lieber said.

Washington, April 25—Here is what the bonus bill as passed by the senate and house provides:

Compensation to veterans on the basis of $1 a day for home service and $1.25 a day for overseas service, with maximum basic compensation of $500 and $625 respectively for the two classes of services. The first sixty days of service are not counted in computing basic compensation.

To veterans to whom $50 or less is due, payment in cash.

To veterans due $50 or more, the issuance of 20 year paid up employment insurance policies. The face value of the policies is figured by increasing the basic compensation due the veteran by 25 percent plus compound interest on the figure so obtained at the rate of 4 1/2 percent for 20 years.

The resulting figure is multiplied by an arbitrary number derived from actuarial principles. For example, the multiplying figure for a veteran 32 years of age, the average veteran age, is 23.17.

The maximum value of a policy obtainable for an over-sea veteran of long service is between 1,600 and 1,800. Policy holders may borrow up to 90 percent of the value of their policies from banks after three years.

NON-UNION COAL IS COSTING LESS

Many Mines in Indiana Forced to Idleness on Account of the Cheaper Labor

Some Mines Sell Coal For $1.40 While Union Labor Makes Price Go up to $2.25 Ton

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25—Competition of non-union fields is forcing many Indiana mines in to idleness, Carry Littlejohn, chief inspector of mines for Indiana said today.

Coal from the non-union fields, because of lower labor costs, is being sold at considerable less than Indiana coal, produced by union labor.

"Coal can be bought at the mine in Kentucky for about $1.40 a ton," Littlejohn said. "In Indiana, at the mine, the price is approximately $2.25."

As a result, 48 of the 215 mines in Indiana, were idle during the month of March, he said. The average for last year was between 35 and 40 mines.

The increase in idleness of Indiana mines does not mean there is a decrease in the demand, he declared. Actually, consumers are using just as much coal as ever, but are buying elsewhere.

As consequence of this situation, there is present in the Indiana fields a tendency toward consolidation of mines to reduce operating expenses.

"There are enough mines in Indiana to produce 75,000,000 tons of coal a year," he said. "The demand for Indiana coal is about 25,000,000 tons a year."

One eighth of the leading Hoosier mining companies could produce all the coal necessary to supply the demand for Indiana coal, he said.

Indiana uses about one half of the coal mined in the state, according to Littlejohn.

KYANIZE FLOOR VARNISH

Is probably the fastest selling varnish on the market. There are a number of reasons for this. It is so tough and durable on floors, not showing heel marks or scratches from heavy furniture that everyone prefers it to any other varnish after they have once used it. It does not show brush marks or laps; is absolutely not affected either by hot or cold water. It has a beautiful enough gloss to be used on the finest furniture, even a piano or victrola. It comes in clear and eight colors including oaks, mahogany, walnut, etc. The coloring is different from other varnishes, stronger, clearer and as it never settles in the can it eliminates getting streaks and different have ever used.

The sample mentioned below is enough to do a chair or stand. There is a money-back guarantee that Kyanize Floor Varnish will give you the longest wearing, prettiest finish you have ever used.

WILL ASK REPEAL OF NEW CERTIFICATE LAW

Two Important Educational Measures to be Placed Before Next Session of State Legislature

OTHER COUNTY UNIT SYSTEM

Crawfordsville, Ind., April 25—Two important educational measures will be placed before the next session of the state legislature, in the opinion of Professor George Tapy, head of the department of education at Wabash college. One will be an attempt to repeal the present state law for strict requirements made of candidates for teachers' certificates, according to Professor Tapy. The second will be a movement for the county unit system of taxation for school purposes, he believes.

The movement to repeal the new teacher's certificate law will be quite natural, Professor Tapy believes. "This is always the case after any new step has been taken," he said, "but it will be a move back to the primitive ways of education to repeal the law adopted last year."

Professor Tapy is heartily in favor of the county unit system, as he believes it will give better schools at a less ultimate cost.

"Those who favor the unit system are steadily growing in number, although it is a matter of speculation whether the bill will pass the state legislature at its next session," he said.

OLD DOBBIN IS DISCARDED

Horses And Wagons Replaced by Trucks by American Express Co.

The latest business in Rushville to discard old Dobbin for automobile service, is the American Railway Express company. The horses and wagons that have been in service here for years, today were shipped into headquarters and the outfits replaced by two modern trucks. The new green trucks were making their first rounds today, covering the territory in much quicker time and carrying even larger loads than formerly. The express horses and the old familiar rattle of the big wagons are now only a memory of the days that "have gone forever".

Deducting debts of $35,000, the net worth of the company was $155,000, according to the copy of the statement.

FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1924

Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard,
neither have entered into the heart
of man, the things which God hath
prepared for them that love him.—
1 Corinthians 2:9.

Government Waste

Not many of us will ever be able
to understand why there is a constant agitation from political sources
—not from consumers—for government control or ownership of private business, which has been alone responsible for the remarkable growth
and development of this country.

Government control and ownership has not measured up whenever
it has been put to the test, but so many people have short memories
that advocates of a system, which would fasten millions of political employees on us, cling to the view
that they will eventually succeed.

Reports just published show that
it costs $44,000 to rehabilitate every disabled war veteran. It seems that in "compensating" each soldier in the sum of $10, it cost $10,000. In other words, the overhead ate up one hundred times as much of the people's money as the soldier actually received.

Inefficiency and waste in government departments should provide evidence enough to convince the dubious that business should remain in private hands.

None can realize that better than the average newspaper editor who is deluged with government bulletins on
almost every subject imaginable,
ranging from "The Windbreak as a Farm Asset" to the "Fluid Milk Market Report for the United States."

Going through a sample day's mail,
the editor finds that most of it came postage-free from government departments. It consists of bulletins
that few, if any newspapers publish,
and that are prepared by some high-
priced government employee who could very well be dispensed with and
put at some productive occupation.

The editor finds, for example,
"Many Farmers Saved by Pigs, Hens, Cows, Corn and Legumes" That's the subject of a long article of five typewritten pages. Then he comes to a fifteen-page typewritten summary of crop conditions. He also learns from another bulletin that the "Early Lamb Crop is Short." "Crows Are not So Black as They Are Painted,"
says another bulletin, throwing little
light on a dark subject.

What is true of the government department that comes to the defense of the crow is true of every other department.

Yet we are asked to permit private business to be conducted on the same wasteful scale as government departments are operated.

A Chance For Thrift

Opportunity for the practice of genuine thrift, absolutely apart from
parsimony, is pointed to by fire loss
statistics.

It is a national maxim of China
that that which is burned up is lost
forever.

It is shown that in one year there was a fire loss of $500,000,000 of property in the United States. By far the great majority of fires are preventable.

Half a billion of perfectly good dollars is a handsome enough sum to command anybody's attention, and it is a deplorable thing to think of its being wasted in fire loss. That sort of loss is absolute.

Nor is the situation made better
by the reflection that property losses
are so frequently accompanied by grievous and costly loss of life; as

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY R. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—C. C. Dill, juvenile senatorial insurgent from Washington, believes that radio will ultimately unscramble the confusion of tongues resulting from the attempt to build the tower of Babel and that it will, in addition, accomplish more than all the statesmen and diplomats in history toward establishing world peace.

"I foresee the day," says Dill,
"when a universal language will result from world-wide broadcasting by radio."

"The better understanding, the friendlier relationship, that will be promoted by this means of communication, will be the biggest factor in bringing universal peace."

IF this end is to be accomplished, however, Dill maintains radio must be kept "free to the people."
"The air," he says, "is the only natural resource not already cornered for private exploitation."
To prevent special interests from obtaining a vested right in radio broadcasting, denying the air to all who do not pay tribute and giving the right of censorship over what shall be broadcasted and who may hear it, Dill has introduced a bill to safeguard the public's interests in radio and broadcasting development.

Instead of music composers expecting pay for the broadcasting of their compositions by radio, as they have demanded in a hearing before Congress, they ought to pay to "get on the air," Dill contends,
"for the value of the advertising they get."

"ROARING TOM" BLANTON of Texas has taken up the cudgels in defense of the cowboys of his state, whom he feels have been basely wronged by the latest down-east definition of the callow southerners who line city curbs and soda bars chiefly on flirtation bent.

Here in Washington they call them "Ee-ee cowboys," Ee being the fashionable downtown promenade for flappers and flirts. Elsewhere they are grouped generally under the term "soda fountain cowboys."

"That title is an insult to the fine fellows riding the range in the cow country," Blanton declares.

"A real cowboy will kill a man quicker for annoying a woman than for anything else. Why not stick to the old terms—'lonelizards,' 'city slickers,' 'synthetic sheiks' for these dude birds? One real red-blooded cowboy from down Arlene way could make the whole crowd crawl!"

MRS. CAL COOLIDGE is doing her spring housecleaning.
Painters and decorators are giving the big house on Pennsylvania avenue a new coat of white lead and the duster and vacuum cleaner have been busy inside. "Pears like Mrs. Cal isn't expecting to have to move out soon, anyway."

Incidentally, it has been noticed that during this housecleaning time Cal has been spending most of his time over at the executive office. Which indicates that even a president may run true to form as a husband.

THE line is beginning to form on the right for seats at the national political conventions.

A fat contribution to the Democratic campaign fund was received the other day with the stipulation that in return the donor would like a couple of boxes at the Madison Square Garden show. Chairman
Hull, I understand, kept the money but hasn't let loose of the boxes yet.

item was inspired by the council itself for we are assured that issuing $30,000 more in bonds will not "increase" taxes. Since the principal of these bonds must be paid, and, if of a long time issue, an equal additional amount in interest, it would seem impossible to convince any one over six years of age, who is not a councilman, that no taxes will be required to pay probably $60,000 of principal and interest on these bonds.

Never, in its history, has Rushville had so reckless a council. With property assessed twenty-five percent above its real value, the levy goes higher each succeeding year, and hereafter it must go up by leaps and bounds. The park bond issue of $24-000 and the proposed City Hall issue of $30,000—both in the space of 2 few months—will require, in principal and interest, about $100,000 to liquidate. There are probably fifteen hundred families in Rushville; if so,
the primary arithmetic children could inform the Council that these bond issues will impose an average family tax burden of about $67.00.

We are told that the City Hall is a disgrace. What is it used for? The Council meets there for an hour every two weeks. The place is about like the office of the average prosperous business man of Rushville, and it should be sufficient to meet the needs of the average councilman.
The mayor holds his Court there. Has he complained He conducts a very successful business in his private office that has no more artistic settings than the City Hall "Disgrace".
Now, our worthy mayor is amply able financially, to remodel his place of business, and make it the finest on the "Racco". He could do it for less than $30,000 and doubtless without issuing bonds. But I am sure he will borrow no such foolishness from the City Council. A place artistic enough to conduct a successful chicken business should be equally so for the trial of common bums. Manifestly, the "disgrace" must come in the lack of artistic decoration of a place for policemen to loaf; but many good citizens believe that a policeman's proper place is down on the streets attending to his official duties. In fact, most of our middle-aged people remember when our whole police force consisted of Ben Monjar, on a salary of less than $75.00 per month. Moreover, they remember how perfectly he managed the job, even though he had to look after the turbulence caused by fifteen saloons, which do not now call for police watching.

When William M. Tweed ran New York City fifty years ago, it was thought that city extravagance had reached its climax, but the per capita cost of city government then and there was lower than it is now in Rushville.
Can there be any "disgrace" so keen as that of a bonded debt foisted on the next generation by the cowardly, thriftless, present one?

principal manufacturing cities of Indiana. The people there selected reckless city officers who burdened it with debts that drove the manufacturers away and killed the town. How far behind Jeffersonville will Rushville be at the present rate of debt inflation?

Rushville taxpayers need an awakening. They should at once demand an investigation, by the State Board of Accounts, of our city affairs.
They ought to appeal to the State Board of Tax Commissioners to stop this reckless issue of bonds. You may win a little at the necessity of calling on Governor McCray's appointees to save you from the folly of your fellow townsmen, but these same commissioners have often furnished much needed relief, and likely they would here.

Our voters ought, on primary day, vote only for legislative candidates pledged to so change our municipal bond laws as to prevent any bond issue without a referendum, and to make city officers' terms two years, as formerly, instead of four, so that they may get rid of unworthy officials.

We can't have any money for necessaries if we spend all our income for non-essentials. We have the highest taxes and the worst streets in Rushville's history. We are to have a new "custodian" for the park in the bottom of Hodges Branch; probably two or three for the gilded City Hall, when finished to the artistic taste of council connoisseurs. Of course, that won't "increase taxes." Increased taxes have doubled rents in Rushville. Unless the reckless extravagance be stopped, rents will again double unless, in disgust, people abandon the town.

The voters are generally informed that The Ku Klux Klan have candidates that they are backing for each and every office to be voted for in the coming primary in both the Republican and Democrat Parties in Rush County, including Precinct-Committeemen and Delegates to the State Convention.

The public generally know who the candidates are that the Klan is backing for the various county offices, but they do not know how the candidates for delegates to the State Convention will vote for Governor, in case no Governor is nominated at the Primary.

We are Republican voters in Rushville Township and we vote for five delegates out of ten candidates as delegates to the State Convention.

That we may vote intelligently, we think it would be no more than fair to us and to every voter that we know how these candidates for delegates stand.

Who do you intend to support for Governor when you go to the State Convention, providing no Governor is nominated at the Primary?

Let us hear from you, Mr. and Mrs. Candidate for

U. S. Tennis Team Hurt

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, April 25—America would run away with the Olympic tennis championship with a team composed of Bill Tilden, Vinnie Richards, Dick Williams, Watson Washburn, Frank Hunter and the Kinsey brothers. These players were selected by the United States Lawn Tennis Association as members of the team, but they will not be able to play because of the rule passed by the Olympic committee that no athletes on the team can act as newspaper correspondents.

Hunter is a newspaper editor, and Tilden, Richards and the Kinseys are contributors to newspapers. Dick Williams, although it had not been announced officially, may resign from the team for the reason that he can't get away from business. Bill Johnston, the little California star, let it be known long ago that he could not go to Paris for the same reason.

Unless the Olympic committee relents or unless the athletes who have been earning money with their typewriters give in, Uncle Sam will have a very weak tennis team at the games instead of a combination that would be invincible against anything in the world.

"Business reasons" may be a big handicap to the organization of the big Olympic team. Dick Landon, fig-

WILL GET ALONG WITHOUT TILDEN

U. S. Olympic Team will Look Elsewhere for a Contender Following His Resignation

BARRED BY ASSOCIATION

Players Who Have Journalistic Aspirations Eliminated From Championship Series

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 25—If Bill Tilden does not care to play in the Olympic game or Davis cup matches the United States tennis team will have to get along without him.

This will be the attitude of the United States Lawn Tennis association resulting from Tilden's announcement in Philadelphia last night that he had resigned from the Olympic and Davis cup teams, it was learned today.

Tilden said he had no other course open after the report of the amateur rules committee had been made public Saturday night in which he referred to as being "an evil influence" on the game because his journalistic activities.

No official comment was made by the association but significance was attached to the statement of Holcombe Ward, chairman of the amateur rules committee—"I'm sorry that Tilden has reached this decision."

The champion said that unless the association ruled he was an amateur he would not play in the Olympic or Davis cup matches and would only defend his title in the national championships.

Since the rule barring player-writers is not to become effective until January 1, 1925, the association cannot rule Tilden out of amateur competition for violation of a rule that does not officially exist.

The association will take the position that it has already recognized Tilden as an amateur for the 1924 season by appointing him to a place on the Olympic tennis team and by announcing him as a candidate for the Davis cup team.

Tilden some time ago wrote the association declaring that he was willing to do anything wanted of him this summer. His action was generally interpreted here as an attempt to force the hand of the association and one that could not be successful because the association has gone so far in crusading against the player-writers that it cannot take a back step.

YANKEES GETTING ON THEIR FEET

Babe Ruth is Hitting Better and the Veteran Pitchers are Working Well After Sickness

MUCH BETTER BALANCED NOW

Yankees Ought to Repeat as Champions, Says Manager. But There Will be no Chance to Loaf

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 25—With Babe Ruth hitting and with the veteran pitchers working better, the New York Yankees are beginning to get on their feet in the American League pennant race.

"We have a veteran club and it was not to be expected that the players would step off on high speed," Miller Huggins, manager of the Yanks, said today. "We had a lot of bad weather in Boston and the Boys are not in good condition. Babe Ruth is all full of a cold. Joe Bush has been bothered by a sore arm and the other pitchers can't do their best until the weather gets warmer."

Huggins figures that the American League is much better balanced now than it was last year and that there is going to be a real pennant fight. The Yankees ought to repeat as the champions, he said, "but as long as Cleveland and Detroit are in the race there will be no chance to loaf."

Ruth got his second homer of the season Wednesday and it may give him his start. He has been worried, the players say, about the trouble he had in getting started and he was getting the idea that his eyes were going bad. Although he insists that he is in good shape and is able to play every day, the players feel that he has not picked up after the attack of flu that took him down at Hot Springs early in the training season.

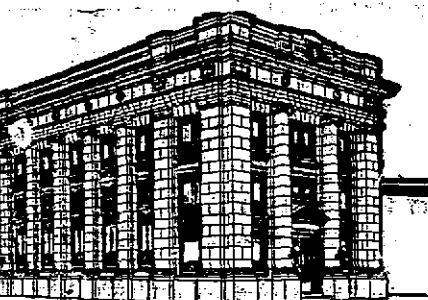

Chicago—Chicago University students are off today in a monstache race. In three weeks the winner will be picked "on the quality and length of hair."

Chicago—Evanston's main street was filled with flying fish. Perch, trout, bass and pickerell whizzed about as John Rubin and Ruben Supe, fish peddlers, battled over their territorial prerogatives. Both were arrested.

SAFETY SUE HAS NEW RHYME POSTED ON HER SLATE TODAY

One of the saddest sights our eyes have ever seen is that of a crippled boy or girl, who must struggle through life on crutch or with a cane or perhaps even in a wheeled chair—and it is all the sadder to know that such misfortune was the result of some one's failure to think and be careful. Accidents are almost always caused by someone being thoughtless or careless. The Daily Republican wants all the happy boys and girls in Rush County to grow up and be men and women with whole healthy bodies, so their lives may be pleasant.

That's why the Republican asks everyone of its young friends to join its big contest to win the nice, new dollar being given each day as a prize to the boy or girl writing the best rhyme to complete Safety Sue's verse about being careful. There's a new verse on Safety Sue's slate today, but it needs another line to make it complete. Can you? Why, of course! And maybe you can think of a better one than any other boy or girl. If you do, you will be the winner. So sit down right now and write the best line you can think of, on the blank lines. Bring or send your finished verse to the Republican office so we will get it not later than 5:30 p. m. Monday and your rhyme may win the nice, bright

new dollar as a prize. The winner will be announced Tuesday.

Don't be discouraged if you have tried and failed to win. Keep right on trying. You may win any day, or you may win more than once. But you must really try to make a good, true rhyme, and to do that you must think hard about what boys and girls and grown folks, too, must do to avoid getting hurt or killed.

Don't forget the BIGGER, BETTER REWARD, which I'll tell you about, later!

Help me keep all little boys and girls from getting hurt or killed.

The winner for the first rhyme contest will be announced Monday. SAFETY SUE

MAKE DAD DIG UP A COAT OF ARMS TO BE STRICTLY IN FASHION

By HEDDA HOYT (Written for United Press) New York, April 25—A "Who's Who" wave is spreading over the fashion world. It began by the use of monograms, and as the monogram vogue became too popular, family crests and coats-of-arms were pressed into service. When Tillie Malone sported "T. M." on her shirt-waist along with Mrs. Astor's more elaborate entwining of letters, the monogram was doomed.

After all, what's in a name as compared with what's in a family crest? Those of the Four Hundred are raking up coats-of-arms of every description, whether authentic or not. Having the coat-of-arms of one's clubs embroidered on one's sport attire is another novel note. Pettishes ranging from elephants to horned toads trim Milady's hankies, her nighties and her mannish sports tie.

From the looks of some of the red and white striped ties one would think "a stick of peppermint candy" was the main love of the debutante. So, girls, if you can't sport something better and less commonplace than your own initials, get the bug and dig up a family crest somewhere. If dad was a seaman, maybe an anchor done in gold would be pretty. The pawnbroker's daughter could use three gold balls. If dad has raked in a lot of shekles doing nothing, work a $20 gold-piece on your hip pocket. But get something distinctive. Don't let the "nouveau riche" put anything over on us.

White will undoubtedly be popular this summer, both for day and evening wear. At Palm Beach lately the vogue for white has become extremely popular. Bright-colored top coats collared in ermine are worn with the white crepe frock. White fox furs and caracul jackets are seen in great number. One popular New York debutante wears a white caracul jacket, with collar, cuffs and border of black caracul.

White homespun coats of three-quarter length are collared, and cuffed in cross-fox and leopard by the fashionables at the Winter resorts. White kid jackets of kid-glove texture are collared in white fox. White flannel dresses and suits are having a great vogue.

And white jewelry, such as ivory crystal and white jade are among the newest notes in jewelrywear. White headed gowns for evening are seen in greater numbers than colors and will carry on into the Summer months.

Sporty Vest

Black and white checked vests, on double-breasted lines, are shown in some of the smartest New York shops for women's wear. These are of the variety formerly attributed to the race track sport, who augmented his color scheme by wearing a red tie. Peculiar to say, the lady of today also dons a red tie with her checked vest.

Jewelry

Earrings are regaining their popularity—those of long, ornate types being most in demand.

Bone bracelets, either carved or plain, are worn considerably for daytime wear. Flexible diamond bracelets and their substitutes, the brilliants, are used for evening wear. Those huge, lined affairs recently introduced in New York are not being worn by better groomed women. Flappers are occasionally heard rattling by with them.

Indianapolis Man Tells of Recovery From Indigestion, Torpid Liver and Constipation.

"The TANLAC treatment took me off the ragged edge of a bad breakdown and gave me health and strength that make life and work a pleasure," is the striking statement of Arthur Sauer, 55 West Pleasant Run Drive, Indianapolis, Indiana.

"About a year ago my stomach went wrong and then nearly everything seemed to go wrong with my health. Indigestion, loss of appetite, restless sleep, pains in the back and chest, headaches, torpid liver, constipation and dizziness worked on me until my nerves gave way and I became pale and haggard and only a shadow of my former self."

"Since taking TANLAC I have gained eighteen pounds and my health is just about perfect. I eat everything, sleep like a baby and feel fine. I certainly have good reasons for praising TANLAC."

Stiff, Swollen Joints Joint-Ease

Says: "When Joint-Ease Gets In—Joint Agony Gets Out."

It was a high-class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription fail to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff inflamed joints.

And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make creaky, swollen, tormented joints work with just as much smoothness as they ever did.

Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many obstinate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacists to the millions of people who suffer from ailing joints that need limbering up.

Swollen, twingy, inflamed, stiff, pain-tormented joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but whatever the cause Joint-Ease soaks right in, through skin and flesh and gets right to and corrects the trouble at its source.

Remember Joint-Ease is for ailments of the joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, spine or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and gratifying results.

It is now on sale at all druggists and druggists everywhere for 60 cents a tube.

Don't Envy Me

Youth and beauty are at your command
BY EDNA WALLACE HOPPER

I made myself a famous beauty. For 35 years as a stage star I have played a beauty's part. I have kept that beauty. At a grandmother's age I retain my youthful bloom.

I owe this to four great beauty helps, perfected by French experts. They form, I believe, the greatest beauty helps in existence. They have brought to many of my friends just what they brought to me. I am convinced that millions can obtain like benefits from them. So I am now placing these supreme helps at every woman's call.

White Youth Clay
One is my White Youth Clay. Not like the crude and muddy clays—so many still employ. This is a super-clay, white, refined and dainty—perfected by 20 years of scientific study. Its results will amaze and delight you.

Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs or mars it. It revives the skin—makes it clear and rosy. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. It multiplies one's beauty. And my girlish complexion shows how it keeps one's youth.

Many women seem to drop ten years with one application of White Youth Clay. The cost is 50c and $1.

Two Master Creams
My Youth Cream is my odd cream. It contains products of both strawberry and lemon, also all the best that science knows to foster the fine texture of the skin.

I apply it after the clay. Also as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. In all my world-wide search I never found another cream which brings comparable results. The price is 60 cents.

My Facial Youth
My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser which I found in France. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. So it cleans to the depths, then departs. All the refuse, all the dirt and grime come out with it. No other method leaves the skin so clean.

The greatest beauty experts now advise this cleanser, but they charge $3 for it. My Facial Youth costs 75c.

My Hair Youth
My hair is my chief glory. It is heavy, silky, lustrous, and grows finer every year. I have never known dandruff, falling hair or gray hair. The reason lies in my Hair Youth. It is based on lifetimes of hair study. I apply it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. There it combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. It stimulates and fertilizes. My luxuriant hair shows what that means, both to men and women. My Hair Youth costs 50c and $1.

All druggists and toilet counters now supply Edna Wallace Hopper's products. So all who wish may now enjoy these matchless beauty helps. Try one and you will use them all. Go now and learn how much they mean to you. With each one comes my Beauty Book and a guarantee. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

The following short story by Ruby Leonard, an Orange school eighth grade pupil, was awarded first place in a contest conducted by the teacher, Miss Helen Moore, who promised the pupils that the winning stories would be published in the Daily Republican. The story follows and is entitled:

THE LOST CAMPER

It was a tremendous hot day and the roguish, laughing sun was showing its anxious face through God's beautiful heavens. I and several other boys and girls were about twenty miles from home on a jolly camping trip. A bluish trickling river found its way near us, by a winding line across the landscape. We were all playing games, except Peggy Newman who decided to go gather flowers.

Peggy gathered her flowers, but instead of returning immediately to the rock where we were, she wandered further along the marshy shore, hoping to find a few odd plants to complete her bouquet. A good hour elapsed before she finally got back to us.

"Where's Ruth?" Peggy asked. Jim Brown raised his head and removed the cigarette from his mouth. "Why, I thought she was with you! She left here to follow you."

And so did all the others think this.

At this moment they all went on a search for Ruth. Peggy went her way and the rest went theirs. Once or twice she stopped to call Ruth's name. The other's were doing the same in the village, and she could hear the echo of their voices, as she tripped along. When she reached the flat rock whose shelving edge disappeared in the water, forming the dam of the waterfall over which the river was cascading, she paused and anxiously looked around. Ruth was nowhere in sight.

She stood a moment in silence, glancing down at the bottomless pool and the steaming cloud of vapor, rising from it. A splash of crimson whirled around in the water appearing and disappearing. She watched it with fascinated eyes, vaguely conscious of something familiar, and yet puzzled. She leaned far over the precipice until growing dizzy, she jerked back just as the girls and boys came up on a run. She had in her head that Ruth had drowned in the river. They soon had another notion in her head and started on another search.

We walked for about a mile when we came to an ante-diluvian, rude hut, from which black smoke was roaring out. Around it was stretched a great expansion of grass and flowers. We went up to the cabin and knocked. Open swung a little door and a large man stood before us. He was gross with a thick, stocky neck. Except for a watch-fob and scarf pin he was dressed quickly enough in a dark suit that bore all marks of faultless and expensive tailoring, over a loose heavy figure that was not easy to fill. His hair was quite gray, close cut and growing far back off his temples. I supposed him to be about fifty years of age.

"Is Ruth here?" I asked. "Step right inside and I think you will find her sitting here talking to my daughter," said he.

"We went in and Peggy ran to Ruth, threw her arms around the girl as if glad to see her."

"Why what possessed you to come here?" asked Peggy.

"I started out to find you, but could not, and I wound up here," replied Ruth trembling.

Peggy fully recovered from her sorrowfulness, and wanted to go home. They all prepared to go home the next day, before such an accident could happen again.
